Know Your Surveillance

Today cameras that offer higher resolutions are more often than not IP based and is of digital quality. Apart from being a typical hardware tool, cameras are being integrated with various systems and peripherals that equates to safe yet intelligent surveillance environment. Integrating the best front end with the most compatible back end infrastructure as per the customer need provides the best surveillance solution.

Know Your Surveillance event will stand apart from other surveillance events since we, Afiintra & EA MSC have got our principals to get together and present their latest surveillance solutions that will benefits the audience to gain more knowledge about the latest integration of surveillance systems.
